

RLE Technologies Privacy Policy

RLE Technologies ("RLE") shares your concerns about the protection of your personal information online. This Privacy Policy ("Policy ") describes our practices regarding the collection and use of information through our website ("Site"), located at www.rletech.com. By using the Site you acknowledge and signify your agreement to the terms and conditions of this Policy. If you do not agree to this Policy, please do not use the Site.

Types of Information RLE Collects

In accordance with U.S. government policy, the following is a disclosure of the types of information RLE collects from visitors to our Site:

- 1. Non-personally identifiable information: When visitors come to our Site, we collect and aggregate information indicating, among other things, which pages of the Site were visited, the order in which they were visited and which hyperlinks were "clicked." Collecting such information involves the logging of the IP addresses, operating system and browser software used by each visitor to the Site. Although such information is not personally identifiable, it may be possible to determine from an IP address a visitor's Internet Service Provider and the geographic location of his or her point of connectivity. RLE does not use cookies (small text files placed on a visitor's computer hard drive) on our Site.

- 2. Personally identifiable information: You do not have to provide personally identifiable information to use the Site. However, particular services made available through the Site may require us to collect personally identifiable information from you. We collect such personally identifiable information only when you affirmatively provide it to us - for example, when registering for such services, or when submitting an inquiry form to the Sites. You may be asked to provide your contact information (including, for example, first name, surname, street address, email address, telephone number) and, when applicable, information concerning your business or areas of interest.

How RLE Uses the Information Collected

In accordance with U.S. government policy, the following is a disclosure of our use of information collected from visitors to our Sites:

- 1. Non-personally identifiable information: RLE uses non-personally identifiable information in aggregate form to build higher quality, more useful online services by performing statistical analyses of the collective characteristics and behavior of our visitors, and by measuring demographics and interests regarding specific areas of the Site.

- 2. Personally identifiable information: Although you are required to complete the contact process if you wish to use certain services on the Site, you may choose to "opt out" of receiving informational and promotional materials from RLE. RLE periodically sends such materials to those customers who have not declined receiving them. These mailings clearly indicate the originator of the email and provide the customer with a method of "declining" of receiving future communications of a similar nature.

Individuals may provide RLE with personally identifiable information through offline means, such as business cards exchanged in connection with sales meetings, tradeshow or other business events. RLE reserves the right to contact such individuals, and to send them RLE informational and promotional materials via email. These mailings clearly indicate the originator of the email and provide the individual with a method of "opting out" of receiving future communications of a similar nature. Such personally identifiable information will otherwise be treated in accordance with this Policy.

If you contact us by email through the Site, we may keep a record of your contact information and correspondence, and reserve the right to use your email address, and any information you provide in your message, to respond thereto. In addition, from time to time we may email important information regarding the use of the Site or services to visitors who have provided us with their email addresses. Because this information may be important to your use of the Site, it is not possible to "opt out" of receiving these emails.

Subject to applicable law, RLE reserves the right to release information concerning any visitor when that visitor is in violation of our other published guidelines, or partakes (or is reasonably suspected of partaking) in any illegal activity, and to release such information in response to court and governmental orders, civil subpoenas, discovery requests and as otherwise required by law. RLE also reserves the right to release information about our visitors when we believe in good faith that such release is required to protect the rights, property, safety or security of RLE, our visitors or the public, or to respond to an emergency.

Security

RLE has security measures in place to protect against the loss, misuse, and alteration of that visitor information which is under our control. Unfortunately, no security system, or system of transmitting data over the Internet, can be guaranteed to be 100% secure. As a result of the foregoing, while we strive to protect your personally identifiable information, we cannot guarantee the security of our servers, the means by which information is transmitted between your computer and RLE's servers, or any information provided to us or to any third party through or in connection with the Site. You provide all such information at your own risk.

Changing or Deleting Personal Information

If you would like to have your personally identifiable information removed from RLE's database or changed, please contact us at sales@rletech.com. We will use reasonable efforts to comply with your request. Please note that we may need to contact you in order to be sure that we are deleting or changing the appropriate information. When requesting that personally identifiable information be removed, please keep in mind that there will be residual information that will remain within RLE databases, access logs and other records, which may or may not contain such personally identifiable information. The residual information will not be used for commercial purposes; however, RLE reserves the right to contact former customers or visitors to the Site.

Business Transfers

RLE reserves the right to transfer any and all information that we collect from visitors, or that we otherwise collect concerning the Site, to a third party in the event of a sale or transfer of assets or of any portion of our business.

Disclaimer

RLE reserves the right to revise this Policy for any reason and reserves the right to make changes at any time, without notice or obligation. By entering and using this Site you acknowledge and agree that you shall be bound by any such revisions. We suggest periodically visiting this page of the Site to review the terms and conditions of this Policy.
